

Water Commission is Appointed

BUSINESS MEN AND CITY COUNCIL TAKE ACTION ON WATER

Mayor Names Commission of Five Prominent Business Men to Handle City Water Question—They Are Backed By All City's Powers and Go to Work at Once.

There was a very important meeting of City Council and a number of business men at the Council Chamber at 11 o'clock this morning called by Mayor Russell when it was again found that the city was practically without water and the Water Company seemed to be doing little to relieve the situation or if they were attempting to do anything, they were meeting with little or no results.

Mayor Russell stated to the men gathered that the water situation had about passed human endurance. Business men had millions of dollars at stake by having practically no protection from fire and he stated that he had called the Council and the business men together to discuss the condition and to talk over some plans for immediate relief. The Mayor called upon the men present to offer any suggestions they might have or to give expression to their ideas on the situation.

Mr. T. A. Duke, manager of the American Tobacco Company's local interests, was the first man asked to speak. Mr. Duke stated that the situation with his firm had become worse than critical and that unless the water situation was solved in the immediate future, it would be necessary for the company to keep their plant closed this winter as they could not re-dry and re-handle tobacco with the water at its present pressure and in the present condition.

Mr. D. E. Fee, of the Maysville Produce Company, stated that in his plant today there were hundreds of fowls which could not be watered because of the failure of the Water Company's plant. He said that the water shortage was a very serious problem with his company. Mr. Fee also suggested that there was a water pump at New Richmond, Ohio, not in use now which the city might be able to rent or purchase.

Captain Horace J. Cochran, of the Maysville Gas Company and the Maysville Power Company; Mr. LeWright Browning, of the law firm of Worthington, Cochran, Browning & Reed, and Mr. S. P. Browning, of the Ohio Valley Pully Works, in their talks were all three of the same opinion. They advised that council appoint a committee of citizens to look into the water situation thoroughly and to make recommendations to the city officials. It was suggested that this commission find out actually what steps have been taken by the Water Company to relieve the situation.

The suggestion of these business men was taken by Council and on motion it was ordered that Mayor Russell appoint a commission of five business men and that this commission be empowered with all of the powers and authority of the city to handle the present emergency as they saw fit. The one object is that the city be given water and given water immediately. It was also ordered that this same commission go into the relations between the Water Company and the city and bring in to City Council immediately recommendations as to what step the city should take, if any, in solving this serious question for all time. The commission was empowered to employ any legal advice they might want and to go to any other expense they deemed necessary to solve this problem which has been facing Maysville for months.

Mayor Russell immediately appointed the commission and no better commission could be found. It represents all of the interests of the city and is made up of men who will do things and do things quickly. The commission named by the Mayor follows:

H. J. Cochran, Chairman—Maysville Gas Co. and Maysville Power Co.
C. L. Wood—President Farmers & Traders Bank.
Thos. L. Duke—Manager American Tobacco Co.
S. P. Browning—Ohio Valley Pully Works.
LeWright Browning—Worthington,

Cochran, Browning & Reed.

The commission is therefore composed of the head of the city's public utilities companies, a banker, manufacturer, lawyer and the great tobacco interests are represented.

The commission went to work immediately after the adjournment of the general meeting, Chairman Cochran calling a meeting in the Council Chamber at once. They will get in touch with manufacturers of pumps and persons who would likely have pumps on hand. They will go into the Maysville Water Company's affairs at once to learn just what that company has done in the situation and will be ready to make their first report to City Council within the next 24 hours.

This definite step taken to relieve the water situation will bring great relief to the people of Maysville. It means a permanent solution of the water question and the men on the Water Commission are the sort that believe in doing things right. Their first report will be awaited with great interest by the citizens of the city.

The Commission will be in continuous session at the law offices of Worthington, Cochran, Browning & Reed in Court street until something has been done. This afternoon they ordered the officers and directors of the Maysville Water Company to appear before them tomorrow to show what had been done by the company toward relieving the situation. Louisville members of the Board of Directors will arrive in Maysville tonight to appear before the Commission tomorrow.

VISITING NURSE IN EVERY COUNTY DR. LOCKE'S PLAN

Dispensary Under Direction of Best Physicians Obtainable and Traveling Clinics to Be Paid For With Red Cross Christmas Seals.

Louisville, Ky., November 11.—A visiting nurse in every county of Kentucky and a dispensary under the direction of the ablest physicians obtainable, besides traveling clinics to go from county to county where needed in the fight against tuberculosis in the State, are the objects toward which Dr. J. S. Lock, executive secretary of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association, is bending his energies and which the money from the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals will make possible if enough of the seals are sold between December 1, when they are placed on sale, and December 10, when the drive for the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals in Kentucky will be completed.

Visiting nurses are badly needed now in some of the counties where there are many cases of tuberculosis, large number of which could be cured if given proper attention, to say nothing of the prevention of the development of other cases through proper care of the patients which the visiting nurse teaches. The death rate from tuberculosis and the number of new cases of the disease have been greatly reduced wherever visiting nurses have been available, and the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals furnishes the funds with which the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association fights the plague by sending these visiting nurses to the rescue.

For the benefit of those who heretofore have purchased larger quantities of the Red Cross Christmas Seals than they could make use of, the Health Bond, in denominations of $5 to $500, is being issued this year. Many of these bonds will be sold to generous Kentuckians and it is likely that the program for the relief of those suffering from the plague, as outlined by Dr. Lock, will be made possible by the additional sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals.

OPIE READ

Friday night, November 14th, there will appear on the High School platform one of the most noted lecturers and novelists of the country. His new lecture, "Human Nature and Politics", composed for the most part of experience stories and never told before on the platform, will be given at this time. Opie Read is as funny as Mark Twain and as philosophical as Ben Johnson. Don't deprive yourself of the opportunity of a lifetime, come out and hear him.

Reserved seat tickets free. General admission 60c.

PRAYER MEETING ON THURSDAY EVENING

The regular weekly prayer meeting service will be held at the First Baptist church Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. The devotional service will be followed by the regular monthly business meeting of the church.

GREAT AUTHOR IS COMING HERE FRIDAY

Opie Read Will Be Big Attraction at High School Lyceum On Next Friday Night.

The day is coming—many of his admirers think it has arrived—when Opie Read will be considered one of America's greatest novelists. Local people will have an opportunity to judge his personality when he comes to Maysville Friday, November 14 for an evening on High School lecture course.

Opie Read's books are read by hundreds of happy, human, joy-loving people who read them because they understand and like them.

Big, kind, human, and American—that's the way to describe Read. The humor, the philosophy, the poetry and imagination of his books are presented on the platform, backed by the personality of this big hearted man.

He has been studying the platform, too, and if you haven't heard Opie Read within the last two of three years you have no idea of the wonderfully interesting manner in which he tells his story—tells as he writes—in Opie Read's way, which is different from that of anyone else.

COUNCIL MEETS IN AD. JOURNED SESSION TONIGHT

The City Council will meet in adjourned session at the Council Chamber this evening at 7 o'clock when, it is expected, all business which has been hanging fire for several days will be finally disposed of. As this is the last full meeting of the old council it is thought there will be much important business to come before the councilmen.

LOCAL LABORERS PLAN ORGANIZING A UNION AT ONCE

Day Laborers in Maysville Will Hold Meeting on Next Tuesday Night Looking Toward Forming a Local Union—Many Are Interested.

A meeting of the day laborers of Maysville and vicinity has been called for next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at Labor hall in the Cox building at which time, it is proposed, to discuss the organization of a Mason County Day Laborer's union.

It is understood that the men who work in Maysville and Mason county as laborers by the day are very much interested in forming a union organization. Most every kind of skilled labor in the city and county is now organized and the common labor has reached the point where they think they should be organized as well. At the request of more than twenty-five such laborers this meeting for next Tuesday has been called.

It is the purpose of Tuesday night's meeting to hear the opinion of the laboring men of the community and if it is the opinion of the men attending this meeting that a union should be formed, an organizer from the International union, will be asked to come to Maysville in the very near future to complete the organization.

Tuesday night's meeting will be announced among all of the laborers of the city and the county and a large delegation is expected to be present.

Having purchased the stocks of both W. W. Thoroughman and T. R. Valentine, I will continue the grocery business at the Thoroughman stand in East Second street, under the management of T. R. Valentine. Your patronage is solicited. Phone 559-L.

If you had your choice between giving up everything you have in this world and losing your eyesight, I am sure you would keep your eyes. Trouble is we never think of these things until we're brought face to face with them. Many people buy spectacles from peddlers that do more harm than window glass spectacles. A Store of Established Standards

Messrs. Metz Bros.
Maysville, Ky.

Gentlemen:

The week of Nov. 10th-17th has been set aside as National Blouse Week, and is an attempt on the part of shirtwaist manufacturers to urge the women of this country to buy cotton waists for the present in the problem of helping to save and to discontinue the buying of silk waists at the extraordinary cost which today's market compels. I thought that you boys might want to do your bit and I have gleaned from our shelves a little lot of one hundred waists which I shipped to you at a price which would have been cheap prior to the war. There will be one hundred lucky women in your city to share this special offering but we appreciate the loyalty of the Maysville women for Royal waists and are only too glad to give you the opportunity which any of our eastern friends would have grabbed.

Wishing you a successful sale, I am

Cordially yours,

LEON MERZ.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPERS PESSIMISTIC

The Democratic newspapers of the country, from a party standpoint, are not particularly optimistic in their discussions concerning the result of the elections of Tuesday, November 4.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, one of the most conspicuous journals of its class, says:

"There is little to comfort the members of the party of the National Administration in the results of the elections held Tuesday.

"The trend of opposition manifested in the congressional and State votes of last year continues and the prospect for a favoring change is shadowy. It seems assured that the war has alienated a substantial portion of the Democratic party from its old allegiance while the clashes and disputes over the treaty of peace have added to that number in marked degree. With the usual luck of loser it is entirely probable that it stands to assume more losses by reason of the labor unrest and the governmental attitude toward the coal and steel strikes and the high cost of living.

"The success of the Republican party in Kentucky by a majority that is impressive augers badly for a solid South vote in 1920. So does the result in New York City bespeak trouble next year.

"Ohio's municipal elections are in line with these unfavorable conditions. Indeed, the horizon is dark everywhere, the situation recalling the gloom that followed the Civil war when the men who had made the sacrifices found themselves ignored if not rejected.

"That the American majority is on the side of law and opposed to demagoguery and brute force was displayed in magnificent fashion in Massachusetts in the reelection of Governor Calvin Coolidge by a tremendous majority.

"In telegraphing his congratulations the President showed superior stature and a deep patriotic spirit. The incident is a happy augury in these disturbed times."

ESSENCE OF THE COAL STRIKE

There is one fact in the controversy between the coal miners and the mine owners which the public, in trying to reach a just conclusion, cannot overlook.

The union miners had a contract with the mine owners which will not expire until April, 1920.

The principle of "collective bargaining," for which union labor rightfully contends, is based upon the theory that a contract is binding upon both parties.

A contract which binds the employer and does not hold the employee is not a contract at all. Failure of the unions to recognize the integrity of their contracts, and the refusal of men in various trades recently to comply with their contract obligations has prejudiced the public and been the indirect cause of the collapse of more than one strike.

The International Typographical Union has lately been compelled to resort to extraordinary means to compel strikers in different cities to live up to their contracts with the publishers and return to work pending negotiations with respect to disputed subjects.

When the international officials of the different trades unions can no longer exercise the authority vested in them by the locals the principle of collective bargaining will be discredited and the theory of unionism will be set back a hundred years.

The existing evils in the industries are largely the outcome of the incendiary activities of radical agitators who should be deported or sent to prison. The hard common sense of the great majority of union men will finally prevail and out of the modern spirit of co-operation between employer and employee there will be constant and permanent benefit to both.

There are no degrees of bolshevism. A man is either for or against the government.

WORDS FROM HOME

Statements That May Be Investigated. Testimony of Mayville Citizens.

When a Mayville citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Mayville resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

George H. King, prop., grocery 616 E. Second St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years, getting them at Chanslor's Drug Store and I have been greatly benefited by them. Sometimes the kidney secretions have been irregular in passage. I have suffered severely with aches through the small of my back. When I have been in that way, I have used a box or two of Doan's Kidney Pills. They have never failed to cure the attack in quick order."

FRECKLES

The Broadway Amusement Co., the producers of "Freckles" which comes to the Washington Friday night has spared neither pains nor expense in staging this song play in the most elaborate manner possible. In the first place there is an environment in "Freckles" which very few plays possess; chances for scenic splendor; amazingly natural and picturesque; and when it is understood that the management has brought it up to the highest standard of stage production both from a scenic point of view and by means of a thoroughly competent and perfectly balanced cast, there is a double assurance of merit. This is not a moving picture.

FLU CAUSES SIX DEATHS IN CHICAGO

The weekly bulletin of the health department issued yesterday, shows that six persons died in Chicago last week as result of influenza. Dr. W. A. Evans, health authority and writer of Chicago, last week, predicted that the world would again be swept by an epidemic of influenza far more severe than last year, when thousands of lives were lost. One thing is sure, that is, the warm weather this fall has kept the epidemic down, but as colder weather approaches, influenza is liable to break out any time. Dr. Brady says: "No one has as yet discovered a positive method of diagnosing early cases of influenza from alleged 'colds.' The utmost care should be taken, therefore not to catch cold, for colds weaken the resistance to influenza germs."

Doctors seem to agree that it is much easier to prevent influenza than to cure it. The secret of preventing influenza is to keep the germs from lodging and developing in the respiratory organs—the mouth, nose and throat. No one should be allowed to breathe in your face because the germs are often transmitted in this manner.

Influenza can be prevented, last year's results prove that. As a preventive for flu, Turpo has been a pronounced success. Turpo is an effective germicide, combining the old-fashioned remedies of turpentine, (which has always been known as the best home germicide), camphor and menthol in a pure mineral base. These ingredients have long been recognized as effective germicides, as well as having really wonderful qualities in relieving colds and congestions. Snuff a little Turpo up the nostrils several times a day, and the flu germs will have little chance of getting a lodging and breeding place. Many physicians and hospitals use and recommend Turpo.

Prepare now. Buy a thirty cent jar of Turpo, while your druggist has a supply on hand, and use as directed. Last year druggists could not supply the demand. Remember that Turpo is a preventive, not a cure for influenza. Take care of yourself.

Will the Influenza Return?

Public Health Authorities Predict Its Recurrence

Guard Against It by Building Up the Blood

Pepto-Mangan Creates Rich Red Blood and Increases Strength

Surgeon General Blue, of the United States Public Health Service, in a recent statement from Washington, warns the public that the much-dreaded influenza epidemic will probably return this fall and winter. All medical authorities agree that the weak, bloodless, rundown individual is more likely to contract this (as well as any other infectious disease) than is the strong, robust, red-blooded man or woman. In view of these facts, it is wise to use every effort to build up the blood and thus increase the bodily resistance to the invasion of the germs of the disease. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak, and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, beware the word "Gude's." It is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.

You may be surprised to learn that customers are coming from cosmopolitan towns, Portsmouth, O.; Cincinnati, O.; Paris, Ky.; Lexington, Ky., and other places of importance. We are glad to be able to please them when they come.

PREACHER BLAMES WIFE'S SUITOR FOR HIS TROUBLES

Minister Who Married Local Woman Says Devil Is Author of Report First Wife Died.

The Cincinnati Post says: Rev. George Cocks, 46, of Van Lue, O., who, tho not legally divorced from Mrs. Murtice Cox, was married at Maysville, Ky., Thursday night to Miss Nannie Gill of that city, charged Tuesday a former suitor of his bride is stirring up trouble.

The minister, who came to Cincinnati to appear before Judge Charles W. Hoffman in Domestic Relations Court Wednesday to explain why he had used the name of "Cox" in his divorce plea and also to explain discrepancies in evidence regarding the length of separation from his first wife, said the "devil himself" is author of a report that he was alleged to have said at one time his former wife and their two children were dead.

Rev. Cocks, who was arrested at Harrison, O., last winter because he kept his church open in defiance of an order of the Board of Health, also blames saloon interests for stirring up his predicament. Rev. Cocks kept his church open because saloons were not forced to close.

"My former wife left her home for the show business while we were in Kansas," said Rev. Cocks.

"No human being truthfully can say I ever said my wife was dead. I have always said I lost her and let people make their own inference. How long would a preacher last if he went around telling that his wife had run away?"

"As to the discrepancy in the spelling names. My father spelled his name 'Cocks,' and when a boy, after I left home, I dropped the long way of spelling for the shorter way. When I married it was as 'Cox.' Now, when my wife left home the last time, I decided that in order to obtain a divorce and avoid publicity it would be advisable to spell my name as originally. I knew I would have to file the application under the same name as I was married.

"I first met Miss Gill more than a year ago and we began corresponding. She has known from the first that I was separated from my first wife. I told her the whole story, but did not tell her folks. She said it was not necessary that everybody should know.

"When I made application for divorce from my former wife, I asked it on the ground of absence and neglect.

"Who blames me for protecting myself?"

"I supposed I was within the law when I married Miss Gill. My attorney, J. Q. Martin did not know anything about my going to marry.

"Miss Gill and I had planned to marry as soon as the case was decided, and when I received a card giving the date of trial, I notified her the marriage would take place Thursday.

"When I left the courthouse I was confident the judge had settled the case and given me a divorce. I wired Miss Gill and when I got to Maysville all preparations had been made for the wedding.

"I was as honest as any man on earth, but ignorant. I had no intention of doing wrong.

"I have lived with the children for three years and cooked, patched, washed and ironed their clothes to keep them in school.

"Where is the man or woman who could blame a preacher for wanting a home? I have shed many tears over this, and as sure as there is a God in heaven he will see me thru it. All this talk is the result of the Harrison case last year.

"I was on my way home from Maysville with my bride when I saw a notice that the judge was withholding the divorce and I immediately sent my wife back to her home.

"I hope to have the case settled this week and go back to my home in Van Lue with my wife.

GLORIANNA PROVES BEST SHOW SEEN HERE IN YEARS

Fritz Scheff, On Account of Illness, Unable to Appear But Understudy Is Equal to the Occasion and Makes Wonderful Hit —Al Wilson Still Good.

The Washington Theater was entirely filled Tuesday evening to witness the John Cort musical production "Glorianna" in which Fritz Scheff is now touring the country. The large audience was much disappointed at the inability of Miss Scheff to leave her room at the hotel because of a severe cold but with Miss Virginia Bert, her under-study, in the title role, they soon forgot this disappointment and enjoyed one of the best shows visiting Maysville in recent years.

The entire company was made up of splendid artists and it would be hard to single out those who were best received by the large audience. Little Miss Vora Dunn as the Ring Bearer, however received the biggest hand and divided honors with the principals, Miss Bert, Al Wilson, Miss Edith Abbot as Dolores Pennington and George Everett as Lieut. "Dick" Pennington. James Joseph Dunn, father of the little ring bearer, as Robbins, was excellent. The chorus was an unusually good one made up of pretty girls who had fair voices and could dance well. The scenery was fine and the costumes beautiful. The orchestra which the company carries with them added much to the enjoyment of the play. Al Wilson's comedy is still good and went big with his Maysville audience.

While many were greatly disappointed at the failure of Miss Scheff to appear, we doubt if there was a single person in the audience who did not feel that they received more than their money's worth. Miss Bert not only possesses a good voice but has a strong personality and is a very clever little actress.

Miss Scheff, herself, was grieved that she was unable to appear in Maysville for it was on her own request that Lexington and Maysville were included in her tour. When Miss Scheff's physician told her that she could not even appear at the theater, she issued this statement to the press: Central Hotel, Maysville, Nov. 11th, 1919.

To my dear Maysville public:

I know that my non-appearance tonight will cause comment and may be disappointment. A horrible cold, aggravated by a mental and physical strain, which my appearance in Lexington caused me, through my tender and sad memories of dear old Kentucky, having been almost my home in the days of my youth. This very cold became so unmanageable, that I am unable to speak or sing. I do want to express my feelings of sadness and disappointment, and as my hoarseness is so severe, I take to this way of expressing my deepest regret and fully hope and dearly wish that I may have another chance some day soon, to return and make friends in this dear little town, which nature places in such a beautiful setting.

Am I forgiven for this disappointment, that caused such grievance to me? And may I ask the press to let my public know how I feel about this matter? My heartfelt thanks will be theirs.

The little show will entertain and my comrades will do so well that I may be forgotten, but please only for a few hours.

So, goodbye for this time—but au revoir soon.

FRITZ SCHEFF.
